ALL ABOUT Adriana

Introduction: Hi family!

First of all, I would like to thank you for letting me stay at your home and integrate me into your family. I am so excited to go through this wonderful experience with you that I can't wait to get to know you and your culture. Having said that, I will introduce myself. I am part of a big family: two brothers, a sister, my parents and me. Despite being the oldest of my siblings, we get along really well and we have a great time among us. Being the older has made me a very independent person, responsible and mature (I hope that helps). We all try to help our mother with the house chores as much as we can. As a family we love doing different activities such as travelling, sailing, trekking, camping, Due to that I consider myself a very familiar person, however I love being with my friends and meeting new people... I think one of the points of studying abroad is the opportunity to exchange our cultures and thoughts, enriching both your and my knowledge.

In addition, I find myself always willing to learn from my environment and to do my best not just in the academic field, but also in the personal. I am very curious, and I love reading too... Not just learning from people, but also from the whole experience by itself. I find the place where you live one of the most interesting and extraordinary countries in the world. I have never visited it, so I'm really looking forward to seeing it by the side of an american family. Talking about my hobbies, I would say that I am open to do any kind of activity and willing to do so. However I should confess that I love nature, moreover, I love any activity related to it. But personally, I consider myself a city girl, and I enjoy going shopping or to the cinema....

Just to finish I should thank you again for providing me with this fantastic experience. I am dying to know you in a few months and to be part of your family. I can assure you that we will have the best year ever! I hope this short introduction of myself helps you make the right choice.

See you soon!

Adriana
