ALL ABOUT Emma

Introduction: Hi, I'm Emma, I'm 16 and I will turn 17 in September. I live in a small town near Tuscany. I have a beautiful family that I'm fond of; every year we do several short trips together: I really love travelling and thanks to my dad, who always takes us in different places, we have had many amazing experiences. I am pretty tall, all my friends say that. I'm 178cm and I am always the tallest everywhere!

I am a sunny person, I like joking and I usually get along with everybody; I also have my bad days and in that case I'm not all that positive. I'm a really curious person in general, I'm interested in what happens around me, in my country and around the world. I am also really happy to try new things, like new sports, new experiences, new habits. I eat literally everything and I'm always available to try new foods. I work hard at school and I care about having good grades.

I like spending the afternoons outside with my friends and we usually walk around the small town where we live. Actually we can't do a lot but we always have fun. If I'm not with them, I rest at home watching tv series and using social media. I'm sporty: I've been dancing since I was 4, every winter I go skiing with my family, I've also tried other sports and I would like to start athletics.

Summer is definitely my favourite season: my grandparents have a house by the sea, where we spend most of our holidays and during this period I can see some friends that live away from me. I'm very happy to have the opportunity to do this experience and I am ready to change my surround and some of my habits.
